The following policies govern the circulation of materials, the use of equipment and space, and operational policies in the Jessup Library and apply to currently enrolled PVCC students, PVCC faculty and staff, and Virginia residents ages 16 and older. PVCC students, faculty and staff automatically have library privileges; Virginia residents must bring official photo identification to the circulation desk to have a record created for them.

* Exceptions will be made on a case by case basis.

All circulating materials are subject to recall and are due as requested. Circulation of materials ends 15 minutes before the library closes.

Students with materials not returned within 10 business days of the last overdue notice will have a hold placed on their record. This will prevent students from receiving transcripts and registering for classes in subsequent semesters. Students who lose or damage books must pay the replacement fee determined by the library. If these fees are not paid in a timely manner, the College will garnish the student’s state tax refund.
Faculty and staff members must return all library materials or pay replacement costs for lost materials prior to leaving the employ of the College. Community members will be billed a replacement charge for unreturned materials.

Any borrower who loses or damages library material will be charged the actual cost to replace it. If a book is no longer in print, there is a minimum charge of $50.

II. Computer Use

The primary purpose for having computers in the library is to assist students with research related to their coursework at the College. At times when the demand for computers exceeds availability, priority will be as follows:

- Currently-enrolled students, faculty and staff engaged in research for coursework or business of the College.
- Currently-enrolled students, faculty and staff conducting research not related to coursework.
- Community members engaged in research.

The library staff enforces these priorities by limiting computer time to 30 minutes, restricting use to persons with higher priority or restricting activities not related to research. Any other use of computers must be approved in advance by the library staff.

Patrons should understand and abide by the provisions of the College's Computer Use Policy and the PVCC Computing Handbook. The library staff will ensure that the current versions of these two documents are available through the library Web page.

Only currently-enrolled students may check out laptop computers on a first-come, first-served basis for use in the library. In the event of loss or damage to a laptop computer, the borrower will be charged the replacement cost of a comparable item. Laptops must be returned 30 minutes before closing.

III. Group Study Rooms

The six group study rooms are primarily for student groups to use. Groups may sign up in advance at the circulation desk to reserve a room for up to three hours, for a total of nine hours per week. Individuals may use a room, but must leave if a group needs the room. Individuals may only reserve a room for class-related recordings or similar activities.

Faculty members are not allowed to reserve the group study rooms, nor are the rooms to be booked for meetings. Faculty members may meet with groups of students to review for tests or exams, but the rooms are not to be used for teaching on a regular basis. The periodical room is only used for library instruction; it cannot be used for teaching on a regular basis or review sessions.

IV. Cell Phones

Cell phones must be turned off at all times.

V. Food and Drink

Patrons may bring food and drink into the library. Open containers are not permitted in the computer area.
VI. Noise

In the interest of maintaining an atmosphere conducive to study and research excessive noise is prohibited.
