Looking for a Career in a High-Demand Field? Consider These New Programs of Study.

Central Services Technician
Starting This Summer (May 2015)
This new career studies certificate, which can be completed in two semesters, will prepare you to be a central services technician responsible for the proper decontamination and sterilization of equipment used in a hospital or community-based surgery center. The current average salary for these employees in Central Virginia is $9-10 an hour, and jobs in this high-demand field are expected to grow 21 percent in our region over the next decade.*

Financial aid to complete this program is available for qualifying students. For more information, contact Linda Starks, PVCC program director and associate professor for surgical technology, at lstarks@pvcc.edu.

This new program at PVCC is made possible by generous support from the University of Virginia Health System and Martha Jefferson Hospital, both of which plan to hire qualified PVCC graduates who earn the central services technician credential.

Retail Management
Starting with the Fall Semester (August 2015)
The Retail Management Career Studies Certificate can be completed in two semesters. Graduates who earn this credential will be prepared for jobs in which they directly supervise and coordinate activities of retail sales workers in an establishment or department. Duties may include management functions, such as purchasing, budgeting, accounting and personnel work in addition to supervisory duties. Moreover, PVCC graduates can then complete the National Retail Federation (NRF) Certification exam in Retail Management to advance their careers. Jobs in retail management are expected to grow 4.2 percent by 2022 in Central Virginia with an average annual salary of $39,644 ($19.06 an hour). The retail sector is projected to grow 9.1 percent in Central Virginia by 2022.*

Financial aid to enroll in this program is available for qualifying students. For more information, contact Adam Hastings, dean of the Business, Mathematics and Technologies Division, at ahastings@pvcc.edu.

Pharmacy Technician
Starting with the Fall Semester (August 2015)
The Pharmacy Technician Career Studies Certificate can be completed in three semesters. If you are detail-oriented and like to measure, mix, count, label, and keep records in a structured environment, a pharmacy tech career may be perfect for you. The current average salary for these employees in Central Virginia is $13-15 an hour, and economic projections estimate a 27 percent growth in this field in our region over the next decade.*

Financial aid to enroll in this program is expected to be available for qualifying students. For more information, contact Krystal Green, associate professor and program director for pharmacy technician, at kgreen@pvcc.edu.

This new program is made possible by generous support from the University of Virginia Health System.

Returning to College with a Clear Goal

Born and raised in the Northern Virginia area, Candice Tomlinson graduated from high school in 2002 but did not enroll at PVCC until 2013. “I previously attended college but took a break. I was busy with work and family responsibilities, but I knew I would continue to take classes when I found the opportunity.”

She began coming to Charlottesville a few years ago to visit her sister, a student at the University of Virginia. “I decided to take just one class at PVCC to get my feet wet again,” she explained. “Then I took a few more as a part-time student, and now I’m taking four classes.” Candice is pursuing an Associate of Science degree in Physical and Natural Sciences with a Biotechnology Specialization and has a particular interest in the field of human genetics. She hopes to finish her course work at PVCC by the end of 2015, find an internship and eventually work in a research laboratory at a hospital, university, government or private research facility.

A Passion for Research

Candice has always liked science more than other subjects, especially the lab work and research. “I really like the hands-on approach to learning that labs provide, using tools and instruments and running experiments.”

Applying that passion, she recently teamed up with fellow students Maya Fraser-Butler and Stephen Hazen to develop a written and videotaped entry to the National Science Foundation’s Community College Innovation Challenge. They proposed an innovative solution to measure water quality in the Rivanna watershed. Associate Professor of Biology Dr. Anne Allison was notified by the Foundation in February that the team’s proposal had advanced to the semifinalist round. Finalists (unavailable at press time) will attend an Innovation Boot Camp this summer in Washington, D.C.

On Being an Adult Learner @ PVCC

Working part-time while taking a full course load, Candice said that it’s the support and flexibility that PVCC provides as well as the financial aid she receives that have allowed her to continue along her path. “PVCC provides a comfortable environment for adult learners like me. They are truly focused on student success, regardless of where you are in life.”

Candice uses the tutoring services provided in the Writing Center and First Quadrant Math Center on campus, which are free with paid tuition for PVCC students. She also uses a convenient online system to make the appointments that she needs with her instructors. “I would tell anyone who is considering PVCC but hasn’t enrolled yet to just try one class. There is always help available here if you need it.”

The Associate of Science degree in Physical and Natural Sciences – Biotechnology Specialization at Piedmont Virginia Community College prepares students for transfer to a four-year college or university to complete a bachelor’s degree that will position them to conduct entry-level basic research in a university or private industry science lab. PVCC has guaranteed transfer agreements with top colleges and universities that guarantee admission to PVCC graduates who meet specific academic transfer criteria. For more information, visit www.pvcc.edu/biotechnology, or contact the Admissions and Advising Center at 434.961.6551 or admissions@pvcc.edu.

Steps to Enrollment for Degree-Seeking

STEP 1 Submit an Online Application to PVCC.
Go to www.pvcc.edu and click on “Apply Now” to complete the Virginia Community College System (VCCS) online application. After completing and submitting your application, you are officially admitted to PVCC, and you will receive a student ID number and username on your confirmation page. Print this page or write down this information for your records. After applying, go to Step 2 if you are enrolling in a degree or certificate program; otherwise, go to Step 4 if you are simply taking classes without pursuing a degree or certificate.

STEP 2 Apply for Financial Aid.
PVCC Financial Aid Office • Main Building, Rm. M136 • 434.961.6545
www.pvcc.edu/financialaid
We encourage all degree- and certificate-seeking students to apply for financial aid.
Financial aid may come in the form of grants, scholarships, loans and work-study positions.
The first step is to complete the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) online at www.fafsa.gov. Indicate PVCC’s school code 009928 on this form. Also complete the “Summer Financial Aid form” which is available online at www.pvcc.edu/financialaid or contact the Financial Aid Office.

STEP 3 Take Placement Tests and Meet with an Advisor.
PVCC Admissions & Advising Center • Main Building, Rm. M144 • 434.961.6551
PVCC Testing Center • Main Building, Rm. M607 • 434.961.5320
Students who plan to apply for financial aid or pursue a degree or certificate at PVCC requiring math or English courses must take placement tests. These tests are administered in the Testing Center at PVCC (Main Building, Rm. M607). See Center hours at www.pvcc.edu/hours. There is no fee to take the placement tests. You can prepare for these tests by reviewing placement test information.

Possible exemptions from taking some or all of the placement tests include:
- SAT scores (within two years) of at least 520 in math and/or 500 in BOTH Critical Reading and Writing
- Certain ACT scores (consult with PVCC’s Admissions & Advising Center)
- Successful completion of certain college-level math and/or English courses
- AP test scores of 3 or higher in English and/or math

After taking your placement tests, make an appointment with an advisor in the Admissions & Advising Center.

When to send official transcripts to PVCC: This is necessary if you want to receive transfer credit for previously completed college coursework obtained outside the Virginia Community College System. Only students applying or entering allied health programs (nursing, surgical technology, emergency medical services, sonography or radiography) need to send high school transcripts. Send your official academic transcripts along with a completed Transcript Evaluation Request Form at www.pvcc.edu/transcripteval to the mailing address below. If you attended another Virginia community college, the completed Transcript Evaluation Request Form is still required, but we do not need an official transcript.
