For students who previously received approval for a 2021-2022 income reduction using projected income: Should your actual IRS Tax Return Transcripts submitted with this appeal reflect significant discrepancies from the information processed on the 2021-2022 income reduction, adjustments will be made to the 2021-2022 file accordingly.

Before we will consider an income reduction, we must verify that the information originally submitted on the FAFSA is correct. There are five circumstances where recalculations are considered. Check one appropriate condition that applies to you and your family.

Loss of Job or Decrease in Income

You, your spouse or your parent(s) lost a job or is no longer employed full-time. You must submit a signed statement indicating the circumstances and either a copy of the unemployment benefits statement, the letter or termination, or a signed statement indicating loss of a job on company letterhead from the former company. Please include the dates of job loss or switching to part-time in the signed statement.

Loss of Untaxed Income

You, your spouse or your parent(s) received some form of untaxed income or benefit and has lost that income or benefit, partially or completely. Attach a signed statement explaining the benefit and circumstances surrounding.

Loss of Taxable Income

You, your spouse, or your parent(s) received other taxable income such as unemployment, retirement, etc. and have completely lost that income or benefit. Attach a signed statement explaining the benefit and circumstances.

Death of Taxable Spouse or Parent

Your spouse or parent(s) for whom income was submitted on the FAFSA has died. Please submit a copy of the death certificate.

Unusual / Unreimbursed Medical Expense

You, your spouse or your parent(s) paid unusual medical or dental expenses (over $2000 out-of-pocket and not reimbursed by insurance) in 2020 or 2021. Attach a detailed explanation, listing the expenses paid in either 2020 or 2021, and documentation to show expenses. Ideal documentation would include a year-end statement from your health insurance company.

Income reduction appeals that are submitted without proper documentation will not be reviewed and will be declined. You, your spouse, or your parents might be required to provide additional information and documentation that will support your request for recalculation due to income reduction. By signing you are confirming that all of the information included in the submission of this form is true and complete to the best of your knowledge.
